Fields of Fury James M. McPherson, 2002-10 Examines the events and effects of the American Civil War

Factory Man Beth Macy, 2014-07-15 The instant New York Times bestseller about one man's battle to save hundreds of jobs by demonstrating the greatness of American business The Bassett Furniture Company was once the world's biggest wood furniture manufacturer Run by the same powerful Virginia family for generations it was also the center of life in Bassett Virginia But beginning in the 1980s the first waves of Asian competition hit and ultimately Bassett was forced to send its production overseas One man fought back John Bassett III a shrewd and determined third generation factory man now chairman of Vaughan Bassett Furniture Co which employs more than 700 Virginians and has sales of more than 90 million In Factory Man Beth Macy brings to life Bassett's deeply personal furniture and family story along with a host of characters from an industry that was as cutthroat as it was colorful As she shows how he uses legal maneuvers factory efficiencies and sheer grit and cunning to save hundreds of jobs she also reveals the truth about modern industry in America

The London Literary Gazette and Journal of Belles Lettres, Arts, Sciences, Etc, 1849

The Factory Question and Industrial England, 1830-1860 Robert Gray, 2002-04-04 The Factory Question and Industrial England addresses the continuing controversy over industrialisation It investigates different perceptions of the factory system either as a threat or a promise and the contested meanings of waged work in industry Making use of a great variety of sources such as sermons medical treatises fictional and visual representations Robert Gray places the languages of debate in their cultural contexts paying particular attention to the shifting constructions of class and gender in the rhetoric of reform and the ambiguities and tensions inherent in protective legislation He then relates patterns of conflict over factory legislation to the features of specific industrial towns The combination of regional cultural and textual analysis makes this book a coherent and original contribution to the study of industrial Britain in the nineteenth century

The Social Problem Novels of Frances Trollope Vol 1 Brenda Ayres, Christine Sutphin, Douglas Murray, Priti Joshi, Ann-Barbara Graff, 2024-09-20 Frances Milton Trollope 1779-1863 was a prolific provocative and hugely successful novelist She greatly influenced the generation of Victorian novelists who came after her such as Charles Dickens George Eliot and Elizabeth Gaskell This book features Trollope's social problem novels

The Novel of Purpose Amanda Claybaugh, 2018-07-05 In the nineteenth century Great Britain and the United States shared a single literary marketplace that linked the reform movements as well as the literatures of the two nations The writings of transatlantic reformers antislavery temperance and suffrage activists gave novelists a new sense of purpose and prompted them to invent new literary forms The result was a distinctively Anglo American realism in which novelists conceiving of themselves as reformers sought to act upon their readers and through their readers the world Indeed reform became so predominant that many novelists borrowed from reformist writings even though they were skeptical of reform itself Among them are some of the century's most important authors Anne Bront Charles Dickens George Eliot Thomas Hardy Henry James

Elizabeth Stoddard and Mark Twain The Novel of Purpose proposes a new way of understanding social reform in Great Britain and the United States Amanda Claybaugh offers readings that connect reformist agitation to the formal features of literary works and argues for a method of transatlantic study that attends not only to nations but also to the many groups that collaborate across national boundaries of Books: v. [1]. 1835-1863 Sampson Low, James Douglas Stewart, 1914 Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods The White Man's Grave F. U S South provides scholars with a dynamic and heterogeneous examination of southern writing from John Smith to Natasha Trethewey. Eschewing a master narrative limited to predictable authors and titles, the anthology adopts a variegated approach that emphasizes the cultural and political tensions crucial to the making of this regional literature. Certain chapters focus on major white writers, e.g. Thomas Jefferson, William Faulkner, the Agrarians, Cormac McCarthy, but a substantial portion of the work foregrounds the achievements of African American writers like Frederick Douglass, Zora Neale Hurston, and Sarah Wright to address the multiracial and transnational dimensions of this literary formation. Theoretically informed and historically aware, the volume's contributors collectively demonstrate how southern literature constitutes an aesthetic, cultural, and political field that richly repays examination from a variety of critical perspectives.
