

Ecologists often use the results of vegetation populations as an indication of environmental change due to the environmental sensitivity of these systems.

Answer each question below.

One resulting skill is the ability to identify the main idea of a passage. The main idea is the basic focus or key idea. Frequently, a main idea is accompanied by supporting information that either described facts or made an idea.

Read each question and write the answer in the space provided.

1. Another ecologist may use various plants, as they are the main focus of their writing. What group of organisms is the main of focus in the first paragraph of this passage?

2. Which do these organisms eat?

3. What group of organisms is the main of focus in the second paragraph?

4. Which do these organisms eat? Why?

5. In your own words, state the main idea of this passage.
