Instructional Models in Computer-Based Learning Environments Sanne Dijkstra, Hein P.M. Krammer, Jeroen J.G. van Merriënboer, 2013-11-11 In the last decade there have been rapid developments in the field of computer based learning environments A whole new generation of computer based learning environments has appeared requiring new approaches to design and development One main feature of current systems is that they distinguish different knowledge bases that are assumed to be necessary to support learning processes Current computer based learning environments often require explicit representations of large bodies of knowledge including knowledge of instruction This book focuses on instructional models as explicit potentially implementable representations of knowledge concerning one or more aspects of instruction The book has three parts relating to different aspects of the knowledge that should be made explicit in instructional models knowledge of instructional planning knowledge of instructional strategies and knowledge of instructional control The book is based on a NATO Advanced Research Workshop held at the University of Twente The Netherlands in July 1991

Psychological perspectives on expertise Guillermo Campitelli, Michael H Connors, Merim Bilalić, David Zachary Hambrick, 2015-05-19 Experts are persons who are very knowledgeable about or skillful in a particular area The aim of this Research Topic is to advance knowledge in the understanding of the phenomenon of expertise by putting together different lines of research that directly or indirectly study expertise Herbert Simon's expertise studies initiated two lines of research One is interested in elucidating the cognitive processes underlying expertise and the other investigates how expertise develops These lines of research started with studies comparing experts and novices in chess and then they extended to numerous areas of expertise such as music medical diagnosis sports arts and sciences In the field of judgment and decision making researchers investigate the quality of judgments and decisions of experts in different professions e g clinical psychologists medical practitioners judges meteorologists stock brokers Those lines of research explicitly investigate the topic of expertise but there are other research areas that make a substantial contribution to understanding expertise Scholars in language acquisition and in face perception for example investigate cognitive processes and development of expertise in areas in which almost everyone becomes an expert Furthermore skill acquisition research informs in detail about short term cognitive changes that may be important to understand how expertise develops We are interested in original research that advances knowledge in the understanding of decision making cognitive processes and development of expertise in sports intellectual games arts scientific disciplines and professions as well as expertise in cognitive abilities such as perception memory attention language and imagery We are also interested in theoretical articles in any of these areas articles that describe computational or mathematical models of expertise and articles offering a framework that would guide expertise research Articles that offer integrative approaches of some of the areas described above are strongly encouraged The goal of this Research Topic is to produce a hallmark piece of work in the field of expertise which complements and does not overlap with the Neural implementations of expertise Research Topic in Frontiers in Human Neuroscience Cumulated Index Medicus ,1999
