Images That Injure Paul Martin Lester, 2011-04-19 This expanded collection of new and fully revised explorations of media content identifies the ways we all have been negatively stereotyped and demonstrates how careful analysis of media portrayals can create more beneficial alternatives Not all damaging stereotypes are obvious In fact the pictorial stereotypes in the media that we don't notice could be the most harmful because we aren't even aware of the negative false ideas they perpetrate This book presents a series of original research essays on media images of groups including African Americans Latinos women the elderly the physically disabled gays and lesbians and Jewish Americans just to mention a few Specific examples of these images are derived from a variety of sources such as advertising fine art film television shows cartoons the Internet and other media providing a wealth of material for students and professionals in almost any field Images That Injure Pictorial Stereotypes in the Media Third Edition not only accurately describes and analyzes the media's harmful depictions of cultural groups but also offers creative ideas on alternative representations of these individuals These discussions illuminate how each of us is responsible for contributing to a sea of meaning within our mass culture

On Floods and Photo Ops Paul Martin Lester, 2010 A close study of the visual record left by political visits following disasters Presidents Herbert Clark Hoover and George Walker Bush were challenged many times during their political careers On Floods and Photo Ops How Herbert Hoover and George W Bush Exploited Catastrophes focuses on the visual record of two such tests the relief efforts led by Commerce Secretary Hoover during the 1927 Mississippi River flood and the Bush team's response to Hurricane Katrina By concentrating on these two historic events Paul Martin Lester discusses political photography particularly the use of photo ops during catastrophes He illuminates the evolution of a genre and explores the differences and similarities between these two American politicians Hoover and Bush reached the pinnacle of political achievement only to lose in the court of popular opinion. From two photo ops that occurred almost eighty years apart, Lester offers a model for close readings and comparisons of images in practicing visual history. Under Lester's examination, these otherwise unremarkable photographs speak volumes about political response to natural disasters. He offers readers not just a deeper appreciation of these pictures but a methodology for seriously studying photographs and what they can reveal about a historical moment. Paul Martin Lester is a professor of communications at California State University Fullerton. He is the author of Visual Communication: Images with Messages and Photojournalism: An Ethical Approach and coeditor of Images That Injure: Pictorial Stereotypes in the Media.

The Media World of ISIS Michael Krona, Rosemary Pennington, 2019-11-01. This anthology explores how ISIS used media and propaganda, shedding light on the characteristics, mission, and tactics of its messaging. From efficient instructions on how to kill civilians to horrifying videos of beheadings, no terrorist organization has more comprehensively weaponized social media than ISIS. Its strategic multiplatformed campaign is so effective that it has ensured global news coverage and inspired hundreds of young people around the world to abandon their lives and their countries to join a foreign war. Contributors consider how ISIS's media strategies imitate activist tactics, legitimize its self-declared caliphate, and exploit narratives of suffering and imprisonment as propaganda to inspire followers. Using a variety of methods, contributors explore the appeal of ISIS to Westerners, the worldview made apparent in its doctrine, and suggestions for counteracting the organization's approaches. Its highly developed, targeted, and effective media campaign has helped make ISIS one of the most recognized terrorism networks in the world. Gaining a comprehensive understanding of its strategies will help combat the new realities of terrorism in the twenty-first century.

Persuasion and Influence in American Life Gary C. Woodward, Robert E. Denton, Jr., 2013-12-23. For more than twenty-five years, the authors have highlighted the complexities, subtleties, and pervasive influence of persuasive messages. The seventh edition again blends historical, rhetorical, and social psychological approaches to persuasion theory. The engaging discussions and multiple examples introduce the intricacies of social influence and highlight methods of presentation as well as evaluation. The dynamic topic of persuasion presents a constantly changing palette for analysis. The authors dissect theory and practice in multiple contexts, from interpersonal interactions to public communication and persuasive campaigns to advertising to politics. Twitter, YouTube, and social networking sites offer new media for persuasive appeals. The means of persuading one another change constantly, yet much of what was written by Aristotle continues to be relevant. The production of persuasive messages and the study of message effects have been and will continue to be fertile ground for exploration. Persuasion is an interactive process requiring willing and attentive participants. Becoming responsible, ethical, and credible persuaders involves systematic thinking and informed preparation. The skills required for planning, composing, and delivering effective messages are equally useful for evaluating messages received. The seventh edition provides a thorough, up-to-date discussion of classic and contemporary theories of persuasion to aid readers in developing skills as effective persuaders and as critical consumers of persuasive messages

Integrated Marketing Communications in Risk and Crisis Contexts Robert S. Littlefield, Deanna D.

Sellnow, Timothy L. Sellnow, 2021-03-09 Integrated Marketing Communications in Risk and Crisis Contexts is part of the Lexington Books Integrated Marketing Communication IMC series The authors present a culture centered model for examining risk and crisis communication within the context of IMC to provide a more robust understanding of myriad cultural variables affecting the perception of risk and crisis messages and the means by which these messages are processed by different publics particularly multicultural and international groups While the conceptualization of what constitutes IMC has been broad from the perspective of risk and crisis communication the focus is quite specific All communication and messages created and disseminated in a risk or crisis situation must be carefully created and strategically presented if the intended outcomes associated with the publics responses are to be realized by the sender of the messages
