Appropriation of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) by West African Educators Toure, Kathryn,2016-08-06 West African teachers and professors who are appropriating information and communication technologies ICT are making it part and parcel of education and everyday life In Mali and beyond they adapt ICT to their milieus and work as cultural agents mediating between technology and society They yearn to use ICT to make education more relevant to life facilitate and enhance African participation in global debates and scholarly production and evolve how Africa and Africans are projected and perceived In sum educators are harnessing ICT for its transformative possibilities The changes apparent in student teacher relations more interactive and classrooms more dialogical suggest that ICT can be a catalyst for pedagogical change including in document poor contexts and ones weighed down by legacies of colonialism Learning from the perspectives and experiences of educators pioneering the use of ICT in education in Africa can inform educational theory practice and policy and deepen understandings of the concept of appropriation as a process of cultural change The Education Gazette of the Province of the Cape of Good Hope Cape of Good Hope (South Africa). Education

J.,Laurian-Fitzgerald, Simona,Popa, Carmen,2018-06-08 As traditional classroom settings are transitioning to online environments teachers now face the challenge of using this medium to promote effective learning strategies especially when teaching older age groups Because adult learners bring a different set of understandings and skills to education than younger students such as more job and life experiences the one size fits all approach to teaching does not work thus pushing educators to create a student centered approach for each learner The Handbook of Research on Student Centered Strategies in Online Adult Learning Environments is an important resource providing readers with multiple perspectives to approach issues often associated with adult learners in an online environment This publication highlights current research on topics including but not limited to online competency based education nontraditional adult learners virtual classrooms in public universities and teacher training for online education This book is a vital reference for online trainers adult educators university administrators researchers and other academic professionals looking for emerging information on utilizing online classrooms and environments in student centered adult education Global Perspectives on Work-Based Learning Initiatives
