Olson places particular focus on fin de siècle Paris where the Avant garde was not unified in thought and there was room for modernism to overlap with children's literature and culture in the Golden Age. The ideas explored by artists such as Florence Upton, Henri Rousseau, Sir William Nicholson, Paula Modersohn-Becker and Marc Chagall had been disseminated widely in cultural productions for children; their work in turn influenced children's culture. These artists turned to children's culture as a new way of seeing allied to a contemporary interest in international artistic styles. Children's culture also has strong ties to decadence and to the grotesque, the latter of which became a distinctively Modernist vision. This book visits the qualities of the era that were defined as uniquely childlike: the relation of childhood to high and low art and the relation of children's literature to fin de siècle artistic trends. Topics of interest include the use of non-European figures, the Golliwogg, approaches to religion and pedagogy, to oppression and motherhood, to Nature in a post-Darwinian world and to vision in art and life. Olson's unique focus covers new ground by concentrating not simply on children's literature but on how childhood experiences and culture figure in art.

Cheval de bois, cheval de vent Wilfrid Lupano, 2017-11-22. Le roi n'en peut plus d'impatience. C'est son anniversaire et qui dit anniversaire dit gâteau. Mais deux gamins juchés sur un cheval de vent viennent de le lui voler avant même qu'il ait pu en goûter une miette. Tout ce que le gâteau contient de gardes et de serviteurs se précipite alors en un instant portant en tête de colonne sa majesté et sa monture de bois la poursuite des maraudeurs.
