Criminal Law and the Rights of the Child in Muslim States Nisrine Abiad, Farkhanda Zia Mansoor, 2010 This book is based on a project on the Rights of the Child in Criminal Law in Iran and Other Muslim States carried out by The British Institute of International and Comparative Law The goal of this project is to enhance the implementation of non discriminatory laws relating to children in Muslim States criminal justice systems through training research and providing support to advocacy work The book is the result of a comparative study on the age of criminal liability in Muslim States aimed at providing strong material for advocacy and research on the subject National Rapporteurs from Muslim and European States have participated in completing a questionnaire on the subject The countries involved in the study include Afghanistan Egypt Iran Malaysia Nigeria United Arab Emirates Pakistan Spain as well as the UK In order to place the study in context it also features chapters covering the history of child criminal law and an introduction to Islamic criminal law as it

The Permanent International Criminal Court Dominic McGoldrick, Peter Rowe, Eric Donnelly, 2004-03 The idea of an International Criminal Court has captured the international legal imagination for over a century In 1998 it became a reality with the adoption of the Rome Statute This book critically examines the fundamental legal and policy issues involved in the establishment and functioning of the Permanent International Criminal Court Detailed consideration is given to the history of war crimes trials and their place in the system of international law the legal and political significance of a permanent ICC the legality and legitimacy of war crimes trials the tensions and conflicts involved in negotiating the ICC Statute the general principles of legality the scope of defences evidential dilemmas the perspective of victims the nature and scope of the offences within the ICC s jurisdiction aggression genocide war crimes crimes against humanity questions of admissibility and theories of jurisdiction the principle of complementarity national implementation of the Statute in a range of jurisdictions and national and international responses to the ICC The expert contributors are drawn from a range of national jurisdictions UK

Sweden Canada and Australia The book blends detailed legal analysis with practical and policy perspectives and offers an authoritative complement to the extensive commentaries on the ICC Statute Imposed Morality Dr Alena Rada, PhD, 2021-06-01 The book Imposed Morality is written from a multidisciplinary perspective and in this sense is totally different from other books dealing with human sexuality and particularly homosexuality While other books usually present only one point of view such as medical psychiatric psychological social or legal this book presents a total and multidisciplinary view It also includes a discussion of the present views of homosexuality both in the western countries as compared to some non western societies which do not seem to take the many important aspects of this practice recently discussed and evaluated by western scientists in consideration and continue to criminalize homosexuality leading to death sentences and executions of gay people or them being stoned publicly to death Criminal Laws in Australia David Lanham, David Wood, Bronwyn Bartal, Rob Evans, 2006 Aims to present a unified picture of the core aspects of Australian criminal law

The Concept of Mens Rea in International Criminal Law Mohamed Elewa Badar, 2013-01-30 The purpose of this book is to find a unified approach to the doctrine of mens rea in the sphere of international criminal law based on an in depth comparative analysis of different legal systems and the jurisprudence of international criminal tribunals since Nuremberg Part I examines the concept of mens rea in common and continental legal systems as well as its counterpart in Islamic Shari a law Part II looks at the jurisprudence of the post Second World War trials the work of the International Law Commission and the concept of genocidal intent in light of the travaux préparatoires of the 1948 Genocide Convention Further chapters are devoted to a discussion of the boundaries of mens rea in the jurisprudence of the International Criminal Tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda The final chapter examines the definition of the mental element as provided for in Article 30 of the Statute of the International Criminal Court in light of the recent decisions delivered by the International Criminal Court The study also examines the general principles that underlie the various approaches to the mental elements of crimes as well as the subjective element required in perpetration and participation in crimes and the interrelation between mistake of law and mistake of fact with the subjective element With a Foreword by Professor William Schabas and an Epilogue by Professor Roger Clark From the Foreword by William Schabas Mohamed Elewa Badar has taken this complex landscape of mens rea at the international level and prepared a thorough well structured monograph This book is destined to become an indispensable tool for lawyers and judges at the international tribunals From the Epilogue by Professor Roger Clark This is the most comprehensive effort I have encountered pulling together across legal systems the general part themes especially about the mental element found in confusing array in the common law the civil law and Islamic law In this endeavour Dr Badar's researches have much to offer us Gambling Regulation and Vulnerability Malgorzata Anna Carran, 2018-03-30 Since the UK Gambling Act of 2005 was introduced gambling has stopped being seen politically and legally as an inherent vice and is now viewed as a legitimate form of entertainment Gambling Regulation and Vulnerability explores the laws around gambling that aim to protect society and individuals examining the differences between regulatory rhetoric and the impact of legislative and regulatory measures Malgorzata Carran finds that although the Gambling Act introduced many positive changes to gambling regulation it has created an environment in which protection of vulnerable individuals becomes difficult Carran challenges the existing legislative premise that regulation alone is able to balance the effect of liberalisation for those who are vulnerable

This book sets out an agenda to transform international criminal trials and the delivery of international criminal justice to victim communities through collaboration of currently competing paradigms It reflects a transformation of thinking about the comparative analysis of the trial process and seeks to advance the boundaries of international criminal justice through wider access and inclusivity in an environment of rights protection Collaborative justice is advanced as providing the future context of international criminal trials The book's radical dimension is its argument for the harmonization of restorative and retributive justice within the international criminal trial The focus is initially on the trial process a key symbol of developing international styles of justice It examines theoretical models and political applications of criminal justice through detailed empirical analysis in order to explore the underlying relationship of theory and empirical study applying the outcome in theory testing and policy evaluation in several different jurisdictions The book injects a significant comparative dimension into the study of international criminal justice This is achieved through searching the traditional foundations of internationalism in justice by employing an original methodology to enable a multi dimensional exploration of contexts local regional and global so recognising the importance of difference within an agenda suggesting synthesis The book argues for a concept of international trial within a rights paradigm understood against different procedural traditions and practices and provides a detailed description of trials and trial decision making in various jurisdictions Transforming International Criminal Justice also sets out to develop effective research strategies as part of its interrogation of specific trial narratives and meanings in contemporary legal cultures Key themes are those of internationalisation fair trial and the exercise of discretion in justice resolutions sentencing in particular and the lay professional relationship and its dynamics Finally the book provides a searching critique of the relevance of existing criminology and legal sociology in relation to international criminal justice and speculates on trial transformation and the merger of retributive and restorative international criminal justice comparative analysis of the criminal trial process internationally argues for harmonization of retributive and restorative justice within the international criminal trial sets out an agenda to transform international criminal trials and the delivery of international criminal justice to victim communities
