

SNAP

in Alabama

The charitable sector can't solve hunger alone.

SNAP helps those in need

In the US, 90 percent of participants are in households with a child under age 18, an adult age 60 or older, or an individual who is disabled.

SNAP

For every meal Feeding Alabama provides, SNAP provides nine

The Feeding Alabama network of eight food banks, and 1500 partner agencies, provides over 69 million meals a year to help the more than 700,000 food-insecure people in Alabama. Alone this won't solve food insecurity. For every one meal that Feeding Alabama provides, SNAP provides nine.

SNAP is a critical piece in assuring families have enough resources to put food on the table. It takes a partnership with federal nutrition programs like SNAP to ensure families are able to put nutritious food on the table.

Efficient and Effective

Alabama has consistently held one of the lowest error rates in the country.

- Before the pandemic Alabama Department of Human Resources received an award for their rate 4.19%, well below the national average.
- It is also essential to clarify that the SNAP payment error rate is not a fraud rate. It measures how accurately states determine eligibility and benefit amounts.
- Fraud actually occurs very infrequently in the program, and USDA works through state offices to investigate fraud and hold individuals accountable.
