• Turn off and unplug all components before making connections.
• If you are connecting a digital cable box, you'll need a special for-external-use-only cable compatible with your cable box. Contact your cable provider.

Making Video Connections

Your TV includes several types of video inputs. Use the inputs that are available on your components that provide the best video performance as described in step 3.

Additional Connections

The best video performance comes from your digital video components using either digital optical or digital serial video connections. Depending on which components are in your system, you may need to complete additional connections. For example, if you have a satellite receiver, you'll need to connect the satellite receiver. If you have an A/V receiver, you'll need to connect speakers.

Note

The receiver's program logic will prevent the use of connections other than those shown on the front panel. Connect the cables as shown in the diagram. A cable with an RF input is required for some digital connections.

Activating CableCARD™ Service

Before you use the Digital Audio™ service, you need to turn the CableCARD™ supplied by your cable provider on and activate the service, as described in step 3.
