Daniels,2014-06-02 In the twentieth century as previously excluded groups including ethnic minorities women the disabled and the differently gendered gained a voice in society group identity also changed and new definitions became necessary Whether through their group affiliations or in spite of these affiliations many individuals sought a new definition of themselves As can be expected much literature explores these changes and depicts the quest for new definitions and the search for individuality in the light of new definitions Construction or definition of the self was once available only to the elite and the freedom of some to define their identity was sacrificed so that others could make their own self definitions this practice can be found throughout much of history This volume is about that kind of oppression and various strategies of escaping from oppression as depicted in serious literature Its thirteen essays all by recognized scholars are divided into five categories Race Gender and the Self Assimilation and the Self Black Males and the Self Female Sexuality and the Self and The Family and the Self
