Education ,1971 Resources in Education ,1998 Power and Emotion in Infant-Toddler Day Care Robin Lynn Leavitt,1994-07-01 Robin Lynn Leavitt presents in a provocative ethnography the lived experiences of infants and toddlers in day care centers This text speaks to researchers and instructors interested in infancy early childhood socialization child care and interpretive research Leavitt s original application of multiple theoretical perspectives interpretive interactionist critical feminist and postmodern yields powerful insights into the problematic emotional experiences and relations between infants and their caregivers The day care center is described as an institution that imposes a temporal and spatial regime on the lives of infants and toddlers Vivid descriptions illustrate how caregivers create problematic situations for the children as they exercise unyielding power in the rigid management and control of the daily routines and play of children As Leavitt documents the experiences of our youngest children she engages in a philosophical exploration of the meanings of emotionally responsive empowering care in group settings Her analysis points to the need to care for caregivers and for caregiving to become a self reflective activity The Oxford Handbook of Infant, Child, and Adolescent Sleep and Behavior

Amy R. Wolfson,Hawley Montgomery-Downs,2013-11 A compendium of the state of the art for empirically based basic and applied science and treatment information about infant child and adolescent sleep and behavior for behavioral scientists educators policymakers and clinicians Early Childhood Care and Education in Canada Larry Prochner,2011-11-01 Formal programs for the care and education of young children in Canada have a history that goes back almost 200 years yet issues surrounding services for our youngest Canadians continue to be hotly contested as we begin a new century In Canada early childhood care and education are striking for their tremendous diversity on such key issues as curriculum financing and teacher education The range of programs and philosophies can be overwhelming for parents practitioners academics researchers and policy makers alike Larry Prochner and Nina Howe reflect the variation within the field by bringing together a multidisciplinary group of experts to address key issues in the field What programs are currently available and what are their origins How are adults prepared for work in these programs How do children within the programs spend their day What policies guide the programs How has the field reflected on itself through research There are no simple answers but the essays in this collection contribute to a creative reframing of the questions The authors include psychologists sociologists historians teacher educators and social policy analysts Early Childhood Care and Education in Canada will be of interest to students teachers and researchers in child study early education policy studies and history With cutbacks to early education programs a shortage of daycare spaces and uncertainty about future levels of support the time is ripe for a close examination of the services we provide for our youngest citizens Mothering and Mother(Work) in the Times of Black Lives Matter

Haile Eshe Cole,Shana Calixte Pitawanakwat,Luciane O. Rocha,2025-03-01 Mothering and Mother work in the Times of Black Lives Matter is an edited collection that sprouted alongside the beginnings of the Black Lives Matter movement but seeks to root itself in the historic and ongoing fight against anti Black state sanctioned violence Utilizing research personal narratives poetry and art this book explores the experience of mothering and motherwork alongside these movements and efforts to protect and value Black life Centering the voices of Black mothers Black other mothers and Black birthing people the collection also seeks to explore the just world that Black mothers hope to create for their futures and the futures of their families and communities Model Child Care Standards Act ,1985 An Ecological Approach To the Study of Child Care Miriam K. Rosenthal,2014-05-22 A new type of childhood is experienced these days by many children in industrial societies that provide child care services The studies summarized in this book stem from a conceptual model based on an ecological approach to the study of development The family day care system in Israel is presented as a case study for the discussion of issues derived from this conceptual model issues which are of central concern to the investigation of child care in any society This book establishes how historical and socio economic processes influence the values and goals set by the society for its children and its social policy concerning child care service are interpreted by parents and early childhood educators relate to different definitions of quality care Unique in its integrative analysis of the daily experiences of infants and toddlers in family day care this volume examines cultural and social policy issues family background and parental beliefs caregiver s background and beliefs the nature of the child care environment and the child s personal characteristics Its theoretical and applied orientation is important to researchers interested in the study of out of home care for young children as well as educators developmental psychologists sociologists and social workers interested in the study of environmental influences on the child development The ecological model and the applied implications of the study are of special relevance to practitioners in the field of early childhood Resources in Education ,1997 Children First Penelope
