Third Grade Socratic Seminar:

Socratic Seminars in the Block Wanda H. Ball, Pam Brewer, 2000 Shows how teachers can plan and implement Socratic Seminars a strategy that is particularly appropriate for teaching in a block schedule and which leads to active learning

Paideia Carla M. Cappello, 2000 Third Grade Socratic Seminars Audreann Giovanetti, 2019 What is the relationship between third grade students use of text based evidence in their opinion writing and participation in Socratic seminars How does the organization of their opinion pieces shift before and after the implementation of Socratic seminars This action research study took place in a third grade general education classroom in an attempt to answer these questions The study analyzed the use of text based Socratic seminars and its impact on student notes and an argumentative writing task The findings included an overall stronger understanding of the topic but a less decisive writing pieces Additionally it demonstrated a greater development in student questioning skills Based on student notes it was clear that students were able to practice listening skills and demonstrated positive social outcomes Urban and Suburban/rural Special Strategies for Educating Disadvantaged Children , 1997 Text-Dependent Questions, Grades K-5 Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, Heather Anderson, Marisol Thayre, 2014-09-02 Fisher Frey s answer to close and critical reading Learn the best ways to use text dependent questions as scaffolds during close reading and the big understandings they yield But that s just for starters Fisher and Frey also include illustrative video texts and questions cross curricular examples and an online facilitator s guide making the two volumes of TDQ a potent professional development tool across all of K 12 The genius of TDQ is the way Fisher and Frey break down the process into four cognitive pathways What does the text say How does the text work What does the text mean What does the text inspire you to do Teaching Critical Thinking Using Seminar Hillary Peters, 2015 This 9 week action research study investigated use of Socratic Seminar to look at the effects it had on critical thinking and reading comprehension The purpose was to see if the program was cognitively appropriate for third grade as well as to measure the critical thinking and reading comprehension students produced The research questions were Will an inquiry based learning program introduced in step by step processes positively affect critical thinking and reading comprehension in third grade students and Are they cognitively capable of engaging in the seminar activities The implemented program consisted of both qualitative and quantitative data collection methods which included annotated readers seminars student work surveys and researcher observations and notes The findings indicated that the students were capable of participating critically in the seminar discussions and the note taking activities at grade level expectations Abstract p 1 Professional Development Schools and Social Justice Kristien Zenkov, Diane Corrigan, Ronald S.
