BOOK JACKET

Sense of Place and Sense of Planet Ursula K. Heise, 2008-09-29 Sense of Place and Sense of Planet analyzes the relationship between the imagination of the global and the ethical commitment to the local in environmentalist thought and writing from the 1960s to the present Part One critically examines the emphasis on local identities and communities in North American environmentalism by establishing conceptual connections between environmentalism and ecocriticism on one hand and theories of globalization transnationalism and cosmopolitanism on the other It proposes the concept of eco cosmopolitanism as a shorthand for envisioning these connections and the cultural and aesthetic forms into which they translate Part Two focuses on conceptualizations of environmental danger and connects environmentalist and ecocritical thought with the interdisciplinary field of risk theory in the social sciences arguing that environmental justice theory and ecocriticism stand to benefit from closer consideration of the theories of cosmopolitanism that have arisen in this field from the analysis of transnational communities at risk Both parts of the book combine in depth theoretical discussion with detailed analyses of novels poems films computer software and installation artworks from the US and abroad that translate new connections between global national and local forms of awareness into innovative aesthetic forms combining allegory epic and views of the planet as a whole with modernist and postmodernist strategies of fragmentation montage collage and zooming

Ecocriticism and Asian American Literature Begoña Simal-González, 2020-01-24 Ecocriticism and Asian American Literature Gold Mountains Weedflowers and Murky Globes offers an ecocritical reinterpretation of Asian American literature The book considers more than a century of Asian American writing from Eaton s Mrs Spring Fragrance 1912 to Ozeki s A Tale for the Time Being 2013 through an ecocritical lens The volume explores the most relevant landmarks in Asian American literature the first contact narratives written by Bulosan Kingston Mukherjee and Jen the controversial texts published by Sui Sin Far Edith Eaton at the time of the Yellow Peril the rise of cultural nationalism in the 1970s and 1980s illustrated by Wong s Homepage and Kingston s China Men old and recent examples of internment literature dealing with the incarceration of Japanese Americans during WWII Sone Houston Miyake Kadohata and the new trends in Asian American literature since the 1990s exemplified by Yamashita's and Ozeki's novels which explore the challenges of our transnational transnatural era Bego a Simal Gonz lez's ecocritical readings of these texts provide crucial interdisciplinary insights addressing and analyzing important narratives within Asian American culture and literature

Gale Researcher Guide for: Writing the Transnational Novel: Karen Tei Yamashita Ruth Y. Hsu, Gale Researcher Guide for Writing the Transnational Novel Karen Tei Yamashita is selected from Gale's academic platform Gale Researcher These study guides provide peer reviewed articles that allow students early success in finding scholarly materials and to gain the confidence and vocabulary needed to pursue deeper research Across Meridians Jinqi Ling, 2012-04-18 Over the course of the last two decades novelist Karen Tei Yamashita has reshaped the Asian American literary imagination in profound ways In Across Meridians Jinqi Ling offers readers the most critically engaged examination to date of Yamashita's literary corpus Crafted at the intersection of intellectual history ethnic studies literary analysis and critical theory Ling's study goes beyond textual investigation to intervene in larger debates over postmodern representation spatial materialism historical form and social and academic activism Arguing that Yamashita's most important contribution is her incorporation of a North South vector into the East West conceptual paradigm Ling highlights the novelist's re prioritization through such a geographical realignment of socio economic concerns for Asian American literary criticism In assessing Yamashita's works as such Ling designates her novelistic art as a form of new Asian American literary avant garde that operates from the peripheries of received histories aesthetics and disciplines Seeking not only to demonstrate the importance of Yamashita's transnational art Ling sets new terms for ongoing dialogues in Asian American literary and cultural criticism At the same time he argues for the continuing relevance of Asian American literature as a self reflexive and self renewable critical practice Moments of Magical Realism in US Ethnic Literatures Lyn Di Iorio Sandín, R. Perez, 2012-12-06 A collection of essays that explores magical realism as a momentary interruption of realism in US ethnic literature showing how these moments of magic realism serve to memorialize address and redress traumatic ethnic histories Environmental Literature Patricia D. Netzley, 1999-12-14 Environmental Literature An Encyclopedia of Works Authors and Themes examines the works of explorers scientists environmentalists ecologists conservationists and nature writers as well as novelists and poets Each entry includes end of entry references and cross references to relevant works A bibliography and comprehensive index round out this handy encyclopedia BOOK JACKET Human Rights in the Americas María Herrera-Sobek, Francisco Lomelí, Luz Angélica Kirschner, 2021-02-25 This interdisciplinary book explores human rights in the Americas from multiple perspectives and fields Taking 1492 as a point of departure the text explores Eurocentric historiographies of human rights and offer a more complete understanding of the genealogy of the human rights discourse and its many manifestations in the Americas The essays use a variety of approaches to reveal the larger contexts from which they emerge providing a cross sectional view of subjects countries methodologies and foci explicitly dedicated toward understanding historical factors and circumstances that have shaped human rights nationally and internationally within the Americas The chapters explore diverse cultural philosophical political and literary expressions where human rights discourses circulate across the continent taking into consideration issues such as race class gender genealogy and nationality While acknowledging the ongoing centrality of the nation the volume promotes a shift in the study of the Americas as a dynamic transnational space of conflict domination resistance negotiation complicity accommodation dialogue and solidarity where individuals nations peoples institutions and intellectual and political movements share struggles experiences and imaginaries It will be of interest to all scholars and students of InterAmerican studies and those from all disciplines interested in Human Rights

The Children of 1965

Min Hyung Song, 2013-04-15 Since the 1990s a new cohort of Asian American writers has garnered critical and popular attention Many of its members are the children of Asians who came to the United States after the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1965 lifted long standing restrictions on immigration This new generation encompasses writers as diverse as the graphic novelists Adrian Tomine and Gene Luen Yang the short story writer Nam Le and the poet Cathy Park Hong Having scrutinized more than one hundred works by emerging Asian American authors and having interviewed several of these writers Min Hyung Song argues that collectively these works push against existing ways of thinking about race even as they demonstrate how race can facilitate creativity Some of the writers eschew their identification as ethnic writers while others embrace it as a means of tackling the uncertainty that many people feel about the near future In the literature that they create a number of the writers that Song discusses take on pressing contemporary matters such as demographic change environmental catastrophe and the widespread sense that the United States is in national decline

Cities of Others

Xiaoqing Zhou, 2014-12-01 Asian American literature abounds with complex depictions of American cities as spaces that reinforce racial segregation and prevent interactions across boundaries of race culture class and gender However in Cities of Others Xiaoqing Zhou uncovers a much different narrative providing the most comprehensive examination to date of how Asian American writers both celebrated and overlooked depict urban settings Zhou goes beyond examining popular portrayals of Chinatowns by paying equal attention to life in other parts of the city Her innovative and wide ranging approach sheds new light on the works of Chinese Filipino Indian Japanese Korean and Vietnamese American writers who bear witness to a variety of urban experiences and reimagine the American city as other than a segregated nation space Drawing on critical theories on space from urban geography ecocriticism and postcolonial studies Zhou shows how spatial organization shapes identity in the works of Sui Sin Far Bienvenido Santos Meena Alexander Frank Chin Chang rae Lee Karen Tei Yamashita and others She also shows how the everyday practices of Asian American communities challenge racial segregation reshape urban spaces and redefine the identity of the American city From a reimagining of the nineteenth century flaneur figure in an Asian American context to providing a framework that allows readers to see ethnic enclaves and American cities as mutually constitutive and transformative Zhou gives us a provocative new way to understand some of the most important works of Asian American literature
