Thoughts On Public Prayer:

Thoughts on Public Prayer Samuel Miller, 2022-11-17 Samuel Miller 1769 1850 was a faithful pastor who became a founding father and a professor of Princeton Theological Seminary He had a deep commitment to the church and an abiding interest in seeing ministers trained ably for her service an interest which led to him writing this book As Dr Jonathan Master notes in his Foreword to this edition of Miller s work public prayer is the priority on Paul s mind when considering public worship Despite this priority today public prayer has in some churches a diminishing place in corporate worship Ministers especially need instruction in public prayer Samuel Miller understood this need in his day and so much of what he wrote remains pertinent to the practice of an edifying ministry in the present This volume is replete with insights into the vital place of public prayer in worship and of sound advice as to how progress may be made in this aspect of pastoral ministry This edition includes a Foreword by Dr Jonathan L Master President of Greenville Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Taylors South Carolina USA

Thoughts on Public Prayer Samuel Miller, 1849 Thoughts on Public Prayer (Classic Reprint) Samuel Miller, 2015-07-06 Excerpt from Thoughts on Public Prayer Brethren beloved in the Lord Many of you have been my pupils whom I have followed ever since you left the Seminary with which it is my privilege to be connected with my best wishes and fervent prayers and all of you I doubt not are willing kindly to receive from an aged servant of the Church who is soon to put off this tabernacle any intimations which he may deem adapted to promote your acceptance and usefulness About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Thoughts on Public Prayer Samuel Miller, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1849 edition Excerpt CHAPTER II HISTORY OF PUBLIC PRAYER As Prayer is a dictate of nature as well as a duty required by the express command of our Master in heaven we may take for granted that it has early and always made a part of the services of public as well as of private religion Some indeed have supposed that social prayer was unknown until the time of Enos as recorded in Gen iv 26 But this is by no means probable As the visible Church was constituted in the family of Adam we must suppose that social prayer in some form was habitually performed That it entered into the worship of the ceremonial economy of the Old Testament is abundantly evident as well from the book of Psalms as from the historical records of important events during that economy In the temple service indeed there seems to have been no system of common prayer There were it is true hours of prayer and many and long prayers were there offered up but these seem to have been by individuals each one praying for himself and by himself and in all manner of words and ways Of two men who went up to the temple to pray each one by himself we have a very graphic account in Luke xviii 10 They had in the temple service sacred music and sacerdotal benedictions but never any system of prescribed joint prayer The ceremonial of the temple was made up of sacrifices ablutions burning incense and minutely enjoined rites of various kinds but there is not a shadow of evidence that it included a prescribed liturgy or a system of prepared and commanded devotional exercises There were indeed solemn prayers on special and extraordinary occasions in which multitudes joined such as those uttered by Solomon by king Asa f by Hezekiah f by Ezra and
