Mama Mary and Her Children James B. Reuter, SJ, 2020-09-06 Writing about the Virgin Mary in the Philippines is like writing about the sunrise You are telling the readers what they already know appreciate and love So when I was asked to produce a book on the Blessed Mother I listened and I was grateful that my friends felt that I was capable of doing this But I did not write the book right away because I was sure it would be a twice told tale But the request haunted me I had a deep sense of guilt a feeling that this was something I should do and I wasn't doing anything about it I didn't know exactly how to present anything really new about this beautiful peasant woman the mother of God Then I remembered my grandmother whom we called Nana How she prayed for my Uncle Ern for thirty years And how Uncle Ern finally came back to God not only on his deathbed but three full days after the doctors expected him to die I also remembered other things that happened in my own family stories that only I could tell and if I don't record them no one else will Moreover I keep receiving letters from both friends and strangers telling me about the beautiful adventures they experienced with the Virgin Mary and the amazing answers they received from their prayers to her These stories are all unique No two people's stories are exactly alike And the way each one reacts when touched by the hand of God is unique This reminds me of American writer William Sydney Porter better known as O Henry and one of his collection of stories called The Four Million based on the population of New York City at the time he published it He felt that if you could portray the soul of any one in that four million you would have a drama that never happened before and will never happen again This gave me courage If I could just tell the actual stories of real people and their contact with the mother of God then every narration would be new Public History, Private Stories Graziella Parati,1996 In this important volume Graziella Parati examines the ways in which Italian women writers articulate their identities through autobiography a public act that is also the creation of a private life Considering autobiographical writings by five women writers from the seventeenth century to the present Parati draws important connections between self writing and the debate over women s roles both traditional and transgressive Parati considers the first prose autobiography written by an Italian woman Camilla Faa Gonzaga s 1622 memoir as her beginning point citing it as a central pre text Parati then examines the autobiographies of Enif Robert Fausta Cialente Rita Levi Montalcini and Luisa Passerini Through her discussion of these women s writings she demonstrates the complex negotiations over identity contained within them negotiations that challenge dichotomies between male and female maternal and paternal and private and public Public History Private Stories is a compelling exploration of the disparate identities created by these women through the act of writing autobiography A Pronouncing, Explanatory, and Synonymous Dictionary of the English Language ... Joseph Emerson Worcester,1858 Atlantic Reporter ,1921 Digest of English Case Law John Mews,1926 A Dictionary of the English Language: Explanatory, Pronouncing, Etymological, and Synonymous Noah Webster,2025-07-23 Reprint of the original first published in 1881 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage Albany Law Journal ,1872 Administration of Mothers' Aid in Ten Localities Alice Madorah Donahue,Ella Gardner,Mary Florensia Bogue,Nettie Pauline McGill,Ruth S.
