Tigers Facing Extinction Report:

Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on Commerce United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, 1968 Rhino and Tiger Conservation United States. Congress. House. Committee on Resources. Subcommittee on Fisheries Conservation, Wildlife, and Oceans, 1998 Bones of the Tiger Hemanta Mishra, A History of Environmentalism Marco Armiero, Lise Sedrez, 2014-07-31 Think globally act locally has become a call to environmentalist mobilization proposing a closer connection between global concerns local issues and individual responsibility A History of Environmentalism explores this dialectic relationship with ten contributors from a range of disciplines providing a history of environmentalism which frames global themes and narrates local stories Each of the chapters in this volume addresses specific struggles in the history of environmental movements for example over national parks species protection forests waste contamination nuclear energy and expropriation A diverse range of environments and environmental actors are covered including the communities in the Amazonian Forest the antelope in Tibet atomic power plants in Europe and oil and politics in the Niger Delta The chapters demonstrate how these conflicts make visible the intricate connections between local and global the body and the environment and power and nature A History of Environmentalism tells us much about transformations of cultural perceptions and ways of production and consuming as well as ecological and social changes More than offering an exhaustive picture of the entire environmentalist movement A History of Environmentalism highlights the importance of the experience of environmentalism within local communities It offers a worldwide and polyphonic perspective making it key reading for students and scholars of global and environmental history and political ecology Paper Tiger Carol Freeman, 2010-08-23 Images of animals generate perceptions that have a profound effect on attitudes toward species Can representations contribute to their extinction Paper Tiger considers the role of illustrations in the demise of the thylacine or Tasmanian tiger It critiques 80 engravings lithographs drawings and photographs published between 1808 and 1936 paying attention to the messages they convey the politics of representation and the impact on the lives of animals This approach challenges conventional histories offers new understandings of human animal interactions and presents a chilling story of just how misleading and powerful visual representation can be It demonstrates how pictures together with words can have a vital influence on species survival this book is a remarkable achievement Freeman writes thoughtfully carefully and with force and the book is a very good read Nigel Rothfels University of Wisconsin Milwaukee Annual Report of the Marine Mammal Commission United States. Marine Mammal Commission, 2001 Facing Extinction Paul Donald, Nigel Collar, Stuart Marsden, Deborah J. Pain, 2013-12-19 Examines extinction in birds with case studies of critically endangered species and the research initiatives designed to save them Illegal Markets and the Economics of Organized Crime Martin Bouchard, Chris Wilkins, 2013-09-13 This book showcases recent advances in the theoretical and empirical understanding of the economic aspects of organised crime and illegal markets It provides new insights into defining and quantifying the influence of organised crime by drawing on innovative approaches to studying criminal networks and organisations such as the Hells Angels The book includes analysis of the structure of illegal drug markets from international leaders in the field Finally the text includes empirical case studies of the diverse markets where organised crime is currently active including the illegal market for crystal methamphetamine in Australia tiger products in China and the falcon and fur trades in Russia This book was based on a special issue of Global Crime ihuman Othmar A Brunner,2019-09-06 In most cases the victims are being victimized by lawyers judges based on their bleeding heart attitude towards criminals This bleeding heart attitude of our present society is the beginning of the downfall of our present society as we know it In addition this book is also talking about and exposes the unfairness of our current economical situation in form of large multinational corporations closing thousands of factories in the United States of America laying off hundred thousands of workers and decimating entire communities

Global Crime Philip L. Reichel,2019-07-08 A definitive resource for understanding such far reaching and often interconnected crimes as cyber theft drug trafficking human smuggling identity theft wildlife poaching and sex tourism While many international corporations have benefited from the global economy and distribution of information globalization has also had serious negative consequences This important reference work offers students and general readers a critical understanding of how technology governments political unrest war and economic strife contribute to an increase in global crime This A Z encyclopedia covers key people events and organizations and includes key documents that will help readers to understand the numerous problems created by the many transnational crimes that are growing in severity and frequency around the world Entries address perpetrators and their methods victims who really profits and law enforcement responses In addition to cyber theft and sales of weapons and narcotics the set provides a detailed look at global crimes not typically covered such as corruption fraudulent medicine illegal sports betting organ trafficking maritime piracy trafficking in cultural property and wildlife and forest crime Although some historical events and people are included the focus is on recent and contemporary topics

River Delta Futures Francisco-J. Hernández Adrián,Angelos Theocharis,2025-02-20 How are climate change weather related disasters food and water insecurity and energetic and infrastructural collapse narrated audiovisually in the most environmentally vulnerable areas of the Planet This book addresses this and related questions by adopting a local and transdisciplinary perspective on river deltas from different areas of the world River deltas have historically been hotspots for human civilizations as populations settled in their fertile grounds seeking resources and opportunities for prosperity Despite this the terrains and livelihoods of those who rely on them are under threat from human exploitation environmental degradation and rapidly accelerating climate change Inspired by the UN Sustainable Development Goals this book provides a range of focused audiovisual analyses of deltaic spaces Ranging across a variety of media including documentary filmmaking animation photography collaborative comic making participatory visual art practices soundwalking and film analysis it examines the role that contemporary audiovisual media play in forging global environmental imaginaries In doing so it adopts a transdisciplinary approach to the Blue Humanities from countries across the world including Canada Bolivia Brazil Greece Nigeria Senegal India Bangladesh Myanmar Thailand and Vietnam

Tiger Bone & Rhino Horn Richard Ellis, 2013-02-22

In parts of Korea and China moon bears black but for the crescent shaped patch of white on their chests are captured in the wild and brought to bear farms where they are imprisoned in squeeze cages and a steel catheter is inserted into their gall bladders The dripping bile is collected as a cure for ailments ranging from an upset stomach to skin burns The bear may live as long as fifteen years in this state Rhinos are being illegally poached for their horns as are tigers for their bones thought to improve virility Booming economies and growing wealth in parts of Asia are increasing demand for these precious medicinals Already endangered species are being sacrificed for temporary treatments for nausea and erectile dysfunction Richard Ellis one of the world's foremost experts in wildlife extinction brings his alarm to the pages of Tiger Bone Rhino Horn in the hope that through an exposure of this drug trade something can be done to save the animals most direly threatened Trade in animal parts for traditional Chinese medicine is a leading cause of species endangerment in Asia and poaching is increasing at an alarming rate Most of traditional Chinese medicine relies on herbs and other plants and is not a cause for concern Ellis illuminates those aspects of traditional medicine but as wildlife habitats are shrinking for the hunted large species the situation is becoming ever more critical One hundred years ago there were probably 100 000 tigers in India South China Sumatra Bali Java and the Russian Far East The South Chinese Caspian Balinese and Javan species are extinct There are now fewer than 5 000 tigers in all of India and the numbers are dropping fast There are five species of rhinoceros three in Asia and two in Africa and all have been hunted to near extinction so their horns can be ground into powder not for aphrodisiacs as commonly thought but for ailments ranging from arthritis to depression In 1930 there were 80 000 black rhinos in Africa Now there are fewer than 2 500 Tigers bears and rhinos are not the only animals pursued for the sake of alleviating human ills the list includes musk deer sharks saiga antelope seahorses porcupines monkeys beavers and sea lions but the dwindling numbers of those rare species call us to attention Ellis tells us what has been done successfully and contemplates what can and must be done to save these animals or sadly our children will witness the extinction of tigers rhinos and moon bears in their lifetime

A Political Ecology of Forest Conservation in India Amrita Sen, 2021-11-25 This book critically explores the political ecology of human marginalization wildlife conservation and the role of the state in politicizing conservation frameworks drawing on examples from forests in India The book specifically demonstrates the nuances within human environmental linkages by showing how environmental concerns are not only ecological in content but also political In India a large part of the forests and their surrounding areas were inhabited far before they were designated as protected areas and inviolate zones with the local population reliant on forests for their survival and livelihoods Thus socioecological conflicts between the forest dependents and official state bodies have been widespread This book uses a political ecology lens to explore the complex interplay between current norms of forest conservation and environmental subjectivities illustrating contemporary articulation of forest rights and the complex mediations between forest dependents and different state and non state bodies in designing and implementing regulatory standards for wildlife and forest protection It foregrounds the issues of identity migration and cultural politics while discussing the politics of conservation Through a political ecology approach the book not only is human centric but also makes significant use of the role of non humans in foregrounding the conservation discourse with a particular focus on tigers The book will be of great interest to students and academics studying forest conservation human wildlife interactions and political ecology Saving Wild Tigers, 1900-2000 Valmik
