Japanese Prisoners of War in India, 1942-46 T.R. Sareen,2021-10-25 This is the first in depth study to examine the history treatment and conditions of more than 2500 Japanese prisoners of war who were captured by British forces on the Burma front and kept in India during the period 1942 46 Drawing on original sources including the National Archive of India the International Committee of the Red Cross as well as limited government records in the UK USA and Japan together with some former Japanese POWs first hand accounts the author has been able to provide a detailed picture of the way of life of these prisoners the organization of camp life as well as the policies that governed their incarceration In so doing the author fills a significant gap both in Pacific War studies and prisoner of war history The manner of the capture and surrender of the Japanese was unique in that they were captured for the most part when they were either seriously wounded or sick or had become unconscious due to hunger or disease while fighting on the Arakan Imphal and Kohima Burma fronts A few in good health gave themselves up but there was no mass surrender even by a single regiment or unit ever took place thus giving rise to the myth that no Japanese soldier ever became a prisoner of war This account sets the history straight and will be widely welcomed by the generalist and specialist alike particularly those studying the history of this period including POW history as well as students of international law and the work of international agencies such as the Red Cross The Pullman News
