A Promising Problem Carlos Kevin Blanton, 2016-03-08 Chicana o history has reached an intriguing juncture While academic and intellectual studies are embracing new highly nuanced perspectives on race class gender education identity and community the field itself continues to be viewed as a battleground subject to attacks from outside academia by those who claim that the discipline promotes racial hatred and anti Americanism Against a backdrop of deportations and voter suppression targeting Latinos A Promising Problem presents the optimistic voices of scholars who call for sophisticated solutions while embracing transnationalism and the reality of multiple overlapping identities Showcasing a variety of new directions this anthology spans topics such as growth and reassessment in Chicana o history manifested in a disruption of nationalism and geographic essentialism the impact of legal history interracial relations and the experiences of Latino subpopulations in the US South race and the politics of religious history transborder feminism in the early twentieth century and aspirations for a field that increasingly demonstrates the relational dynamics of cultural production As they reflect on the state of their field the contributors offer significant insights into sociology psychology anthropology political science education and literature while tracing the history of activism throughout the last century and debating the very concepts of Chicano and Chicano history Although the political landscape is fraught with closed off rhetoric A Promising Problem encourages diversity of thought and opens the possibilities of historical imagination Teachable Monuments Sierra Rooney,Jennifer Wingate,Harriet F. Senie,2021-03-11

Monuments around the world have become the focus of intense and sustained discussions activism vandalism and removal Since the convulsive events of 2015 and 2017 during which white supremacists committed violence in the shadow of Confederate symbols and the 2020 nationwide protests against racism and police brutality protesters and politicians in the United States have removed Confederate monuments as well as monuments to historical figures like Christopher Columbus and Dr J Marion Sims questioning their legitimacy as present day heroes that their place in the public sphere reinforces The essays included in this anthology offer guidelines and case studies tailored for students and teachers to demonstrate how monuments can be used to deepen civic and historical engagement and social dialogue Essays analyze specific controversies throughout North America with various outcomes as well as examples of monuments that convey outdated or unwelcome value systems without prompting debate Laying Claim Patricia G. Davis,2016-08-15 Laying Claim African American Cultural Memory and Southern Identity explores the practices and cultural institutions that define and sustain African American southernness demonstrating that southern identity is more expansive than traditional narratives that center on white culture Critical Theories in Dark Tourism Nitasha Sharma,Annaclaudia Martini,Dallen J. Timothy,2024-12-02 This book facilitates a critical investigation of gaps in theorizing and framing dark tourism by navigating through some onto epistemological issues theoretical entanglements future possibilities and the application of critical theoretical perspectives related to affect and emotions human animal studies postcolonialism feminism trauma studies posthumanism power and identity In doing so it advances the need to connect critical theory pragmatism and contemporary issues of social and global relevance Given the growing body of critical research within tourism studies dark tourism has somewhat lagged behind For example critical tourism researchers have been examining postcolonialism for two decades but dark tourism research has only sporadically engaged with this topic Similarly the issue of gender has been curiously neglected within dark tourism In addition dark tourism research has tended to shy away from the big challenges facing contemporary societies Through its engagement with a range of critical theories this volume not only addresses gaps in the existing dark tourism literature but also moves the debate forward in exciting new directions This volume is well placed to demonstrate to other disciplines and fields that dark tourism research can be critical theoretically grounded and transformative Duncan Light Styling

Politics of Inscription Joseph Robinson, 2017-08-04 Taking Northern Ireland as its primary case study this book applies the burgeoning literature in memory studies to the primary question of transitional justice how shall societies and individuals reckon with a traumatic past Joseph Robinson argues that without understanding how memory shapes moulds and frames narratives of the past in the minds of communities and individuals theorists and practitioners may not be able to fully appreciate the complex emotive realities of transitional political landscapes Drawing on interviews with what the author terms memory curators coupled with a robust analysis of secondary literature from a range of transitional cases the book analyses how the bodies of the dead the injured and the traumatised are written into or written out of transitional justice The author argues that scholars cannot appreciate the dynamism of transitional memory space unless they first engage with the often silenced or marginalised voices whose memories remain trapped behind the antagonistic politics of fear and division Ultimately challenging the imperative of national reconciliation the author argues for a politics of public memory that incubates at multiple nodes of social production and can facilitate a vibrant democratic debate over the ways in which a traumatic past can or should be remembered Integration and Receptivity in Immigrant Gateway Metro Regions in the United States Paul N. McDaniel, Darlene Xiomara Rodriguez, 2024-07-08 Despite the velocity and scale of the cumulative changes of immigrant integration and receptivity infrastructures in fast growing regions of the United States less research has focused on the new and evolving experiences in these regions in recent years Editors Paul N McDaniel and Darlene Xiomara Rodriguez and the contributors in Integration and Receptivity in Immigrant Gateway Metro Regions in the United States fill this gap through case studies of different types of immigrant gateway metro areas They provide insight into how immigrant settlement integration and receptivity processes and practices within each metro area have continued to evolve beyond the nascent experiences documented in the early 2000s This interdisciplinary volume examines ongoing processes in not only well established immigrant gateways but also in previously overlooked regions This book is a resource for researchers students and practitioners to contextualize the ongoing changes in new destination metropolitan regions in the United States and to learn from the challenges opportunities and best practices emerging from different metropolitan regional contexts
