Al-Hoorie, Fruzsina Szabó, 2022-01-27 One of the most active areas in the field of second language acquisition language learning motivation is a burgeoning area of research Yet the plethora of new ideas and research directions can be confusing for newcomers to the discipline to navigate Offering concise bite size overviews of key contemporary research concepts and directions this book provides an invaluable guide to the contemporary state of the field Making the discussion of key topics accessible to a wider audience each chapter is written by a leading expert and reflects on cutting edge research issues From well established concepts such as engagement and learning goals to emerging ideas including contagion and plurilingualism this book provides easy to understand overviews and analysis of key contemporary themes Helping readers understand a field which can appear highly technical and overwhelming Researching Language Learning Motivation provides valuable insights perspectives and practical applications Cognitive and Educational Psychology for TESOL Andrzej Cirocki, Bimali Indrarathne, Sharon McCulloch, 2024-08-19 This volume has been written specifically with TESOL teacher educators practitioners and classrooms in mind It is divided into three sections cognitive aspects of language learning individual differences and language learning difficulties and challenging behaviours Structured in this way it enables TESOL teacher educators and practitioners to better understand how language learners process and retain new information improving their overall ability to learn and remember In addition to supporting TESOL teacher educators and practitioners in promoting effective language learning this volume explains individual differences among language learners and the importance of developing learners emotional social and behavioural skills while addressing learning difficulties disorders disabilities and challenging behaviours whenever required The individual chapters are written in an accessible style to enable readers to explore various psychological concepts in their pedagogical practice by engaging in reflective teaching through action research This volume is a vital resource for pre and in service language teachers and will encourage language teacher educators to reassess their existing practices Chapter 2 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link springer.com Challenges and Prospects in Second Language Enrolment Stephanie Richey, 2025-10-28 This book provides a contextual examination of the factors that affect students elective second language L2 study in Australia It investigates why Tasmanian students do or do not choose to enrol in an elective second language at school and explores relationship of motivational factors that affect their decisions This is a case study of one education system but the findings are relevant to others globally With the field of L2 research turning attention to motivations around languages other than English LOTE this book provides a unique account of adolescent students LOTE experiences in an Anglophone setting It demonstrates there is a complex ensemble of factors that affect subject choice and enrolment decisions regarding elective second language learning In the face of Global English these findings address a gap in the research of adolescent LOTE learners the majority of who have English as a first language and thus motivations for language learning vastly differ from those wanting to learn English as an additional language The findings outlined in this book are valuable as they consider the practical implications for school language programmes This book will be of interest to scholars teachers and policy makers globally wishing to gain further insight into motivational factors affecting L2 enrolment

Study Guide and Student Solutions Manual to Accompany Physics for Scientists and Engineers, by Serway Raymond A. Serway, Steven Van Wyk, 1996

Motivation to Learn Multiple Languages in Japan Chika Takahashi, 2022-11-22 This book provides rare insights into motivation among extremely successful learners of English and languages other than English LOTE through the analysis of a longitudinal study and the examination of the factors involved in becoming multilingual in a non multilingual environment Based on sixteen interview sessions conducted over the course of nine years while the learners progressed from high school to the world of work this book offers the story of how two learners persist in English LOTE learning The study illuminates the long term processes through which the interviewees develop ideal English LOTE selves in an environment where multilingualism is not emphasized and where both English and LOTE can still be described as foreign languages Educators and researchers will learn from this study which stretches our understanding of motivation beyond the recent theorizing of L2 motivation and contributes to the limited research in long term motivational trajectories and LOTE learning motivation which is particularly scarce in non European contexts The book will be of interest not only to readers in Japan but also to those in other contexts as it offers an example of successful learners who go beyond the pragmatic and instrumentalist view of language learning to hold a more holistic view thus revealing the factors which can sustain multiple language learning even in foreign language contexts

Language Program Vitality in the United States Emily Heidrich Uebel, Felix A. Kronenberg, Scott Sterling, 2023-11-09 The perception of a permanent enrollment crisis in US postsecondary foreign language education has shaped our profession's image for an entire generation of educators Over the past 30 years this crisis rarely invited self examination or inspired creativity Instead it was routinely attributed to external factors shrinking budgets unsympathetic administrators disengaged students This volume is refreshingly optimistic After providing a nuanced picture of the complex enrollment situation and focusing on perceptions of language education among undergraduate students the volume features an inspiring panorama of successful models that revitalized language programs at a wide range of institutions The diversity of approaches to post secondary language education in the United States featured in this volume highlights that there are no simple one size fits all solutions To be transformational initiatives need to be intimately calibrated to the evolving needs and desires of our institutions most building a reputation as a researcher in their chosen field of psychology English-Medium Instruction Translanguaging Practices in Asia Wenli Tsou, Will Baker, 2021-07-22 This book examines translanguaging pedagogy in Asia's English medium instruction (EMI) higher education. It presents an overview of concepts and common issues and case studies from specific contexts in Asia. The book first interrogates macro-level English medium instruction policies and implementation from English as a lingua franca (ELF) perspectives. Following this, implications of English as a lingua franca on English medium instruction pedagogy will be explored with a theoretical framework of translanguaging pedagogy developed. The book concludes with a discussion on translanguaging and how the concept contributes to English medium instruction in Asia. Through the book, the content focuses on the specificity of each Asian English medium instruction context from a translanguaging lens. English medium instruction policies and translingual practices from China, Japan, Taiwan, Thailand, and Vietnam are explored, and opportunities and challenges related to translanguaging pedagogy in Asian English medium instruction classrooms are examined.
