The Selected Works of George Sand George Sand, The correspondence of George Sand and Gustave Flaubert if approached merely as a chapter in the biographies of these heroes of nineteenth century letters is sufficiently rewarding In a relationship extending over twelve years including the trying period of the Franco Prussian War and the Commune these extraordinary personalities disclose the aspects of their diverse natures which are best worth the remembrance of posterity However her passionate and erratic youth may have captivated our grandfathers George Sand in the mellow autumn of her life is for us at her most attractive phase The storms and anguish and hazardous adventures that attended the defiant unfolding of her spirit are over In her final retreat at Nohant surrounded by her affectionate children and grandchildren diligently writing botanizing bathing in her little river visited by her friends and undistracted by the fiery lovers of the old time she shows an unguessed wealth of maternal virtue swift comprehending sympathy fortitude sunny resignation and a goodness of heart that has ripened into wisdom For Flaubert too though he was seventeen years her junior the flamboyance of youth was long since past in 1862 when the correspondence begins he was firmly settled a shy proud grumpy toiling hermit of forty in his family seat at Croisset beginning his seven years labor at L Education Sentimentale master of his art hardening in his convictions and conscious of increasing estrangement from the spirit of his age He with his craving for sympathy and she with her inexhaustible supply of it meet he pours out his bitterness she her consolation and so with equal candor of self revelation they beautifully draw out and strengthen each the other s characteristics and help one another grow old But there is more in these letters than a satisfaction for the biographical appetite which indeed finds ITS account rather in the earlier chapters of the correspondents history What impresses us here is the banquet spread for the reflective and critical faculties in this intercourse of natural antagonists As M Faguet observes in a striking paragraph of his study of Flaubert It is a curious thing which does honor to them both that Flaubert and George Sand should have become loving friends towards the end of their lives At the beginning Flaubert might have been looked upon by George Sand as a furious enemy Emma Madame Bovary is George Sand s heroine with all the poetry turned into ridicule Flaubert seems to say in every page of his work Do you want to know what is the real Valentine the real Indiana the real Lelia Here she is it is Emma Roualt And do you want to know what becomes of a woman whose education has consisted in George Sand s books Here she is Emma Roualt So that the terrible mocker of the bourgeois has written a book which is directly inspired by the spirit of the 1840 bourgeois Their recriminations against romanticism which rehabilitates and poetises the courtesan against George Sand the Muse of Adultery are to be found in acts and facts in Madame Bovary Now the largest interest of this correspondence depends precisely upon the continuance beneath an affectionate personal relationship of a fundamental antagonism of interests and beliefs resolutely maintained on both sides George Sand with her lifelong passion for propaganda and reformation labors earnestly to bring Flaubert to her point of view to remould him nearer to her heart s desire He with a playful deference to the sex and years of his friend addresses her in his letters as Dear Master Yet in the essentials of the conflict though she never gives over her effort he never budes a jot he has taken his ground and in his last unfinished work Bouvard and Pecuchet he dies stubbornly fortifying his position To the last she speaks from a temperament lyrical sanguine imaginative optimistic and sympathetic he from a temperament dramatic melancholy observing cynical and satirical She insists upon natural goodness he upon innate depravity She urges her faith in social regeneration he vents his splenetic contempt for the mob Through all the successive shocks of disillusioning experience she expects the renovation of humanity by some religious some semi mystical amelioration of its heart he grimly concedes the greater part of humanity to the devil and can see no escape for the remnant save in science and aristocratic organization For her finally the literary art is an instrument of social salvation it is her means of touching the world with her ideals her love her aspiration for him the literary art is the avenue of escape from the meaningless chaos of existence it is his subtly critical condemnation of the world The origins of these unreconciled antipathies lie deep beneath the personal relationship of George Sand and Gustave Flaubert lie deep beneath their successors who with more or less of amenity in their manners are still debating the same questions today The main currents of the nineteenth century with fluent and refluxing tides clash beneath the controversy and as soon as one hears its long withdrawing roar and thinks it is dying away and is become a part of ancient history it begins again and will be heard no doubt by the last man as a solemn accompaniment to his final contention with his last adversary

Journal de Eugène Delacroix (Complete) Eugène Delacroix, 2020-09-28 Le Journal d'Eugène Delacroix se compose de notes prises au jour le jour écrites à bâtons rompus où le grand artiste jetait chaque soir au courant de la plume sans ordre sans plan sans transitions toutes les idées les réflexions les théories les extases les encouragements qui pouvaient traverser son esprit toujours en travail Commencé en 1823 par un jeune homme de vingt-deux ans dans la fièvre d'une vie ardente et tourmentée ce Journal a d'abord l'allure rapide et quelque peu décousue mesure que les années s'avancent le sang s'apaise l'esprit se maîtrise et s'élève l'expérience naît l'horizon s'élargit le style se précise et les aperçus succincts du début font place peu à peu de véritables morceaux littéraires Ces notes qui n'étaient pas destinées à voir le jour et qui embrassent une période de plus de quarante années se trouvent consignées sur une série de petits cahiers de calepins et d'agendas portant chacun sa date L'existence de ce Journal était connue des copies en furent prises la mort de Delacroix elles demeurent entre les mains de l'élève le plus fidèle du véritable disciple du maître le peintre Pierre Andrieu qui nous devons rendre ici un sincère hommage La vénération d'Andrieu pour Delacroix avait revêtu le caractère d'une véritable religion d'positaire de la pensée du grand peintre il résolut de la garder pour lui seul et tant qu'il vivait il se refusa à publier ces pages qu'il relisait sans cesse Pierre Andrieu est mort l'année dernière Sa veuve et sa fille n'ont pas cru devoir priver plus longtemps le public d'un document si précieux pour l'histoire de l'art et elles nous ont confié la mission de le mettre au jour La publication actuelle est donc faite d'après les papiers remis à Pierre Andrieu Mais pour écarter toute critique éviter toute erreur et assurer la pensée de l'écrivain toute son exactitude et toute son autorité les éditeurs ont pensé qu'il était indispensable de contrôler ces notes page par page sur les manuscrits originaux Le petit neveu du grand peintre M de Verninac s'élève du Lot avec une bonne grâce et une courtoisie dont nous ne saurions trop le remercier nous a permis de faire ce travail de vérification sur les originaux eux-mêmes qu'il a bien voulu nous communiquer Si dans ce Journal certaines lacunes sont constatées notamment pour la période de 1848 par contre nous avons eu la bonne fortune de retrouver certains carnets qu'on croyait perdus Le fameux voyage au Maroc dont la trace semblait perdue appartient aujourd'hui au professeur Charcot qui nous a permis de reproduire cet épisode capital dans la carrière artistique du maître nous sommes heureux de pouvoir lui adresser ici l'expression de notre gratitude Nous avons fait également appel au souvenir des anciens amis des élèves et des admirateurs de Delacroix tous se sont empressés de mettre notre disposition les renseignements et les documents qu'ils pouvaient posséder. En nous accordant leur bienveillant concours Mme Riesener, M. le marquis de Chennevières, MM. Robaut Faure, Paul Colin, Maurice Tourneux, Monval, Bornot, le commandant Campagnac nous ont aidés dans notre tâche et c'est un devoir pour nous d'inscrire leurs noms en tête de cette publication. Pour conserver au Journal son véritable caractère les diteurs ont scrupuleusement respecté les divisions du manuscrit qu'ils publient tel qu'il a été conçu et ces aperçus philosophiques des idées critiques les plus élevées sur l'art, sur la peinture, la musique et la littérature on trouvera une foule de notes personnelles qui nous font pénétrer dans la vie même de l'artiste car Delacroix a consigné dans ces cahiers tous les détails de son existence jusqu'aux incidents parfois infimes de sa journée, ses visites, ses promenades voire même ses pensées, le prix de vente de ses tableaux et les procédés techniques de sa peinture. Tous ces menus faits dont quelques uns pris isolément pourraient paraître quelquefois de peu de valeur constituent réunis un document du plus haut intérêt. Il en ressort un Delacroix intime qu'on avait pu soupçonner déjà par la correspondance recueillie par Philippe Burty et par les notes fragmentaires déjà publiées mais qui apparaît aujourd'hui dans ces pages avec un relief saisissant. À travers ces impressions personnelles, ces sensations, ces confidences se dégage une même intelligence, un caractère de qualité tout fait supérieure. Pendant plus d'un demi-siècle Delacroix a tenu le mouvement intellectuel de son temps. Il a connu tous les hommes illustres de la monarchie de Juillet, de la République de 1848 et du second Empire. Si l'on excepte quelques compagnons de jeunesse et d'atelier dont l'amitié est restée fidèle à Delacroix jusqu'à la fin mais dont la notoriété s'est effacée depuis longtemps on trouvera inscrits dans ce Journal les noms de la plupart de ceux qui ont marqué leur place dans le monde des arts, de la littérature et de la politique.

Œuvres complètes de Sénèque le philosophe traduction nouvelle Sénèque, 1834 Valérie Barbara Juliane Freifrau von Krüdener, 2021-04-24. Dans Valérie Barbara Juliane Freifrau von Krüdener décrit le parcours tumultueux d'une héroïne romanesque plongeant le lecteur dans les méandres de ses motions et de ses dilemmes moraux critiqués dans un style à la fois lyrique et introspectif. L'œuvre reflète les caractéristiques du roman romantique du début du XIXe siècle avec des descriptions vocatrices et une profonde exploration des sentiments. Le contexte littéraire de l'époque marqué par un intérêt croissant pour la psychologie et la subjectivité se perçoit à travers les préoccupations existentielles de Valérie ou la quête d'identité et la critique des conventions sociales dominantes. Barbara von Krüdener, une figure singulière de la littérature germanophone et européenne, n'était non seulement écrivaine mais aussi une femme de salons littéraires influents en contact avec des intellectuels.

de son temps Son engagement pour les idées aux romantiques et la recherche de la vérité personnelle clarifient son œuvre et son expérience personnelle avec les relations humaines et les luttes sociales imprègnent Valérie d'une authentique profondeur émotionnelle témoignant de l'itinéraire d'une femme en quête de panouissement dans un monde souvent incompréhensible Nous recommandons impérieusement Valérie tous ceux qui souhaitent ressentir la condition féminine dans la littérature et aux nuances de la vie intérieure Ce roman tout en tant un produit de son époque résonne encore aujourd'hui par sa juste représentation des conflits intérieurs et de la quête de sens faisant de cette œuvre une lecture essentielle pour les amateurs de littérature romantique et d'humanité profonde
