Information Services for a Sustainable Society Madeleine C. Fombad, Collence Takaingenhamo Chisita, Omwoyo Bosire Onyancha, Mabel K. Minishi-Majanja, 2023-07-24 The publication seeks to establish how information professionals are providing information services in a sustainable society in an era of information disorder. It also provides the strategic direction to strengthen the global voice of libraries inspiring and enhancing professional practice as well as enhancing international cooperation and collaboration among LIS educators and practitioners. The contents are divided according to the following key sub themes that resonate with the title as outlined below: Library and information services in the information age; Data and records in an era of information disorder; Archives data curation and preservation in the digital era; Data science analytics and visualization; Information ethics in the digital era; Information deluge in the digital era; Information and knowledge management; Fourth Industrial revolution. The highlighted themes explore critical issues relating to how libraries, archives and related institutions are responding to the seismic shifts in the information landscape amidst a myriad of challenges and opportunities. The sub themes bring together a tapestry of articles that explore the status, experiences and future prospects of the dynamic library and information science practice.

Looking Through Philosophy in Black Mabogo Percy More, 2018-12-11 This autobiography is a series of interrelated true life events and decisions taken by a black philosopher that highlight the human drama unfolding in the inferno of the South African apartheid system. Mabogo More details what it means to be a black philosopher in an anti black apartheid academic world. More's life story traces his emergence in philosophy and his pursuit of a philosophical dream, a dream that takes him from his South African black ghetto township to American and British universities and finally to the prestigious Frantz Fanon Lifetime Achievement award. His extraordinary philosophical autobiography with an emphasis on African existentialism that takes into account issues of racism, identity, liberation, freedom, alienation, responsibility and bad faith is supplemented by three key essays from his intellectual career representing the extraordinary contribution he has made to African philosophy and black existentialism.

Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa Mafukata, Mavhungu Abel, 2020-12-25 Human movement has an influence on the socio economic dynamics of people, regions and countries. The schisms between host and immigrants impact how host countries utilize immigrant skills and expertise to benefit their economies. However, immigrants are impacted by negative diplomatic relations between countries that limit the free movement of people and the welfare of immigrants. In association, this brings about social challenges such as Afrophobia, racism, xenophobia, hatred and violence within these countries. While these challenges are deeply rooted across the world, Africa has its own unique challenges. Still struggling with massive underdevelopment, Africa needs to remove all the negative factors that could impede its quest of achieving development imperatives. Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa analyzes the genesis and evolution of immigration in Africa and how this has resulted in social challenges such as xenophobia within the continent.

The book focuses on demonstrating how immigrant skills and expertise can be positively utilized to assist African development and asserts the existence of xenophobia in respective countries does not assist Africa's quest of resolving its own challenges. The chapters within this book therefore explore how this subsequent output of xenophobia has impacted African development and focuses on the revival of Pan Africanism as a uniting instrument and ideology for Africans. This book is a valuable reference tool for activists, retired and practicing politicians, governments, policymakers, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, students, and academicians. The State of African Resilience Jennifer G. Cooke, 2015-04-08. During the last decade, sub-Saharan Africa enjoyed unprecedented rates of economic growth with new technologies, better governance, and increasing investment flows creating new opportunities for innovation and economic and human development. Yet across the continent, vulnerable populations continue to contend with recurrent crises and stresses that leave them in a cycle of fragility and risk, struggling to recover and unable to expand economic opportunities or to improve well-being. This report examines resilience from the perspective of vulnerable communities across Africa and identifies the most promising entry points for innovations that can increase resilience capacity. Adolescent Psychology in Today's World Michael J. Nakkula, Andrew J. Schneider-Muñoz, 2018-11-02. This groundbreaking three-volume set spotlights how conditions around the world are affecting the healthy development of adolescents in their respective environments on all six continents. Continually unstable or perpetually poor economic conditions, globalization, and rapid technological change are just three of the forces affecting a group of 1.2 billion strong today, a demographic poised to become our world leaders and catalysts in the not too distant future. Led by two editors who have been dedicated to studying adolescent development worldwide for decades, this novel collection of works from contributors in more than 40 countries emphasizes how possibilities for healthy mental and physical development are affected by the difficulties youths face in their countries and how these challenges have shaped and are shaping contemporary teenage life today. The set comprehensively addresses issues for adolescents across the globe, such as the day-to-day challenges of poverty, inadequate education, violence, or war, disease, reproductive matters, globalization, and technological challenges, and more, while also providing a strengths-based focus in the volumes showing how and why some teenagers in each country have surmounted the challenges and forged stronger characters to better their worlds. These stories document more than personal victories; their experiences matter far more than the adolescents themselves. In its State of the World's Children 2011 report, UNICEF noted that the world community needs to turn its attention to adolescents in need, explaining that focusing on this large and potentially powerful group makes economic sense as well as being a necessary step in working towards achieving human justice. By addressing the risks, challenges, and strengths of teenagers as a group in countries worldwide, this work serves to break the cycle of poverty, violence, discrimination, and death for adolescents. Handbook of Research on Administration, Policy, and Leadership in Higher Education Mukerji, Siran, Tripathi, Purnendu, 2016-09-27.
